"No Christian denomination has been so indifferent to its history as our own. Our fathers have been left to sleep in unhonored graves. The labors they performed—the sufferings they endured—the heroic characters they bore—have alike been forgotten. The books which, amid penury and toil, they wrote in defense of their persecuted faith, are almost wholly unknown to those who now possess the noble heritage of religious freedom and Christian truth which they bequeathed. It is time for the honor of our name, as a Christian people, that this indifference were broken up, and that we began to study for ourselves, and to teach our children, the lives and deeds of the founders and fathers of our churches. We hail therefore with delight any discussion which shall make our brethren acquainted with the early history of their own denomination, or lead them to linger in pious reverence around the graves of those who, amid obloquy and contempt, first taught the faith we cherish, and first established the institutions of religion and learning to which we are so largely indebted."

PHILADELPHIA ASSOCIATION SERIES

To Set Them in Order: Some Influences of the Philadelphia Baptist Association Upon Baptists of America to 1814

By James L. Clark

Illustrated and indexed $32.00

Dr. Clark examines some of the more enduring influences of this association on Baptist development in America from the time of its formation in 1707 until the formation of the General Missionary (or Triennial) Convention in 1814. It includes a facsimile copy of the earliest edition of the Philadelphia Confession of Faith. 466 pages.

The Life, Journal and Works of David Jones, 1736-1820

By G. Truett Rogers and Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $31.50

In addition to pastoring churches in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, David Jones also undertook one of the earliest Baptist missionary endeavors among the American Indians in 1772-1773. During the Revolutionary War and again in the Indian Wars of 1794-1796 and the War of 1812, Jones served as a chaplain in the American Army, most notably under General Anthony Wayne.

This first-time compilation of material includes a full-length biography of his life by Dr. G. Truett Rogers, the Journal of his two missionary visits to the Indians of the old Northwest Territory and his various other published works. 639 pages.

The Life of John Gano, 1727-1804. Pastor-Evangelist of the Philadelphia Association

By Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $42.50

In this newly expanded volume, incorporating a completely revised and corrected edition of the author's 1998 book, The Life and Ministry of John Gano, 1727-1804, the story of this leading evangelical figure of the eighteenth century is related in greater depth, utilizing a number of previously untapped sources. Twelve appendixes cover additional interesting information including a 30-page discussion of evidence on the baptism of General George Washington. 704 pages.

Ministers of the Philadelphia Baptist Association, 1707-1872 A Biographical Notebook

Compiled and Edited by Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $36.00

B. H. Carroll described the Philadelphia Baptist Association as "the Mother Eve of American Associations." This book compiles biographical information on each of the 928 ministers and other key persons known to have been connected with the Philadelphia Baptist Association from its beginning on September 27, 1707, through December 31, 1872, together with the churches they were known to have served. Each subject is followed by a list of the primary references consulted for the information given. It will make an excellent companion volume to A. D. Gillette's Minutes of the Philadelphia Baptist Association, 1707-1807. 95 illustrations. xlv, 871 pages.

CHARLESTON ASSOCIATION SERIES

History of the First Baptist Church of Charleston, South Carolina, 1682-2007. 325th Anniversary Edition

By Robert A. Baker, Paul J. Craven and Marshall Blalock

Illustrated and indexed $34.00

First Baptist Church, Charleston, is the oldest Baptist church in the South and, in the view of many, the most influential single church in the development of the people who came to be called Southern Baptists. Here is the story of that church and her influence on Southern Baptist theology, missions, education, women's work, and organization. 652 pages.

Memoirs of Elder Edmund Botsford

Compiled and edited by Charles D. Mallary

Illustrated and indexed $25.00

"Among the early Baptist ministers in South Carolina, one of the more influential and colorful was Edmund Botsford (1745-1819). He was nurtured in the faith by Oliver Hart, was a contemporary and fellow-laborer with Richard Furman in the Charleston Baptist Association, and a spiritual father to William B. Johnson, John M. Roberts and others. He was a capable minister, an involved worker in the Charleston Association, a writer and a mentor to young ministers. Yet he is practically forgotten in South Carolina Baptist history ... This reprinting ... will help introduce him to a new generation of Baptists." — J. Glenwood Clayton, from the Introduction. 251 pages.

The Life of William B. Johnson

By Hortense C. Woodson

Illustrated and indexed $24.00

A spiritual heir of the early Particular Baptists in South Carolina, Johnson's contribution to American Baptist life was not as a theologian, but rather as a man remarkably gifted in organizational and administrative skills – traits that would lead him into prominent influential leadership positions. After serving as president of the Triennial Baptist Convention from 1841-1844, Johnson went on to become the first president of the Southern Baptist Convention, serving from 1845-1851. This reprint has been enhanced by additional illustrations, a comprehensive index, and valuable appendices. 255 pages.

OTHER AMERICAN BAPTIST BIOGRAPHIES AND HISTORIES

Daniel and Abraham Marshall

By Thomas Ray

Illustrated and indexed $28.50

Together with Shubal Stearns, Daniel Marshall founded the Sandy Creek Baptist Church in North Carolina, which had a direct bearing on the rapid growth of the Baptists in the Carolinas and Virginia. He also had the honor of establishing the first continuing Baptist church in Georgia at Kiokoe in 1772. His son, Abraham, was even more conspicuous as an itinerant pastor-evangelist, "some comparing him to Whitefield in eloquence." This work also contains the complete Memoirs of the Late Rev. Abraham Marshall. 330 pages.

The Life, Ministry and Journals of Hezekiah Smith

By John David Broome

Illustrated and indexed $43.00

"This intrepid Baptist minister was a potent factor on the American religious scene for over forty years. While most men would have been content with the successful pastorate which he held in Haverhill, Massachusetts, from 1764 to 1805, Smith's wide itinerations carried his influence far beyond the little town by the Merrimack River. Chronicled in a series of journals which he kept, his life and work strike an unusual portrait of a man whose story deserves the attention of the American historian." — from the author's introduction to the Journals. 717 pages.

Baptist History Celebration 1707-2007: A Tercentenary Tribute to the Founding of the Philadelphia Baptist Association

Illustrated and indexed $33.00

Convened at the historic First Baptist Church in Charleston, South Carolina, August 1-3, 2007, this collection of biographical essays, presentations on hymnody and other aspects of Baptist life and thought will provide the reader with many topics of interest from a varied spectrum of Baptist historians and thinkers. 663 pages.

Anthology of Early Baptists in New Hampshire

Compiled and edited by Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $36.00

This collection of materials on the early Baptists in New Hampshire provides the researcher with much more detailed information not found in the standard histories of Baptists in this state. Includes indexes of Persons, Subjects, Churches, and Scriptures. Those interested in the rise and progress of these sturdy New Hampshire Baptist pioneers should also read our other work by John David Broome on The Life, Ministry, and Journals of Hezekiah Smith. 601 pages.

An Anthology of the Early Baptists in Rhode Island

Selected and edited by Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $36.00

Rhode Island was the early center of American Baptist life and played a major role in denominational expansion in New England. This volume contains facsimiles of some of the most significant works by and about early Baptists in America. Three valuable appendixes and a comprehensive index of person are included in this work. 934 pages.

The Works and Letters of Cleve Brantley

Edited by Gary W. Long and Terry Wolever

Illustrated $20.00

This volume is a collection of seven booklets written by Lawrence Cleve Brantley (1909-1988), along with some of the many personal letters written to Gary W. Long, expounding various topics and passages of Scripture. In addition, there is a biographical sketch of Bro. Cleve. 412 pages.

God's Glory in Baptist History: A Memorial Volume for Terry Wolever

Edited by Michael A. G. Haykin

Illustrated and indexed $26.00

"Terry Lee Wolever was: A Christian. A Calvinist. A servant of the Lord and his local church. A reputable scholar. A notable Baptist historian. A good teacher. A good conversationalist. A good friend. A fan of root beer floats. Thoughtful. Articulate. And a genuinely friendly and funny guy." --an excerpt from the biographical sketch of Terry Wolever. This volume was written to honor his legacy, but ultimately, as Terry would certainly have it, was written to honor and glorify His Lord. Nine essays from various authors on historical figures and subjects. Three appendixes, including Aids to Baptist Historical Research. 300 pages.

A History of the Baptist Churches in Ohio, 1789-1907

By Dr. Richard H. Clossman, edited by Patrick Kennedy and Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $29.00

Contents include: Baptist Beginnings in Europe, America, and Ohio; The Missionary Cause in Ohio; The Campbellite Controversy; The Anti-mission Controversy; The Ohio Baptist Convention; Higher Education Among Ohio Baptists; The Convention, 1861-1881: Struggle for Coherence; and The Convention, 1882-1907: The Building Years. 5 appendixes and an extensive bibliography. 410 pages.

A Timeline of the Key Events in the Life of David Benedict (1779-1874)

By Terry Wolever

$6.00

This booklet presents a detailed chronology of the important events in Benedict's life, which are not generally known, including ministry matters, denominational and historical publications, family concerns, and other events. An appendix provides his never before reprinted sermon on revivals, stating at the outset that "so important is it, that we should have right views and feelings respecting them, that, on the one hand we should not overleap the boundaries of duty and propriety, nor on the other, stand aside with cold and suspicious indifference from the real work of God." Paperback, 34 pages.

MISSIONARY SERIES

The volumes in this series are uniformly bound in dark green cloth vellum with gold stamping on the front and spine.

The Three Mrs. Judsons

By Arabella Stuart

Illustrated and indexed $24.00

Ann Hasseltine, Sarah Boardman and Emily Chubbuck, each successively the wife of Adoniram Judson, the first American Baptist missionary to a distant foreign field, demonstrated in their lives the noblest of Christian virtue, and supreme dedication to the cause of Jesus Christ in spreading the gospel to what was then known as the Burman empire. This third printing, commemorating the 200th anniversary of the sailing of the Judsons to India and Burma, has an added appendix, "A Burman Liturgy," composed by Adoniram Judson in 1829, and for the first time, a detailed Index of Persons and Subjects. 410 pages.

The Autobiography of Isaac McCoy

Edited by Terry Wolever

Illustrated and indexed $28.00

This volume on the lives of Isaac and Christiana McCoy, missionaries to the American Indians during the early to mid-nineteenth century, includes his Observations in Vindication of the Doctrine of the Final Perseverance of the Saints (1811), and the first 25 of his 100 "Hymns and Spiritual Songs" (1812). In addition, the work by Walter N. Wyeth (1833-1899) entitled, Isaac McCoy—Christiana McCoy: Early Indian Missions (1895) has been reprinted in this volume to provide the reader with a condensed and engaging overview of their work. 474 pages.

Early Indian Missions, as Reflected in the Unpublished Manuscripts of Isaac McCoy

By Edward R. Roustio

Illustrated and indexed $33.50

The work of the McCoy's in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and finally Kentucky, was one of unrivaled significance in the early history of each of these states in regards to Indian affairs.

This book also includes the detailed history of the Maria Creek Baptist Church in Indiana, where McCoy first pastored, as well as an appendix by Emory J. Lyons entitled, "Isaac McCoy: His Plan of and Work for Indian Colonization." 462 pages.

Isaac McCoy, Apostle of the Western Trail

By George M. Ella

Illustrated and Indexed $42.00

The story of Isaac and Christiana McCoy and their missionary associates to the American Indians has long been eclipsed in Christian literature by other such notable worthies as John Eliot and David Brainerd, yet the scope of what Isaac McCoy's missionary endeavors entailed and in the end what was achieved far exceeded that of his early predecessors in Indian missions and the comparative obscurity therefore is undeserved. Unfolded before the reader in this biography is one of the great chapters in the history of Christian missionary endeavor, and a story of great courage and perseverance in the cause of Christ by those who truly loved the American Indians. 660 pages.

BRITISH BAPTIST BIOGRAPHIES AND HISTORIES

The volumes comprising this collection are all uniformly bound in red cloth vellum with contrasting spine labels and gold stamping, unless otherwise noted.

The Life and Works of Joseph Kinghorn, 1766-1832

Compiled and edited by Terry Wolever

Illustrated V1: $24.50 V2: $27.00 V3: $29.00

A widely-known and well-respected figure in his own day, Joseph Kinghorn's life and influence are inseparable from the history of the Particular Baptists in nineteenth-century England and Scotland.

Volume One contains a reprint of Joseph Kinghorn of Norwich: A Memoir, originally published in 1855 and two sermons delivered on the death of Kinghorn by two fellow ministers in 1832. The profitable letters between Joseph Kinghorn and his pastor-father David Kinghorn constitute a valuable part of this biography. 530 pages.

Volume Two contains ten of his published works, dating from the beginning of his writing ministry in 1795 until the year 1817, covering a wide range of subjects and characterized by "Mr. Kinghorn's usual style of calm and careful investigation and argument." 447 pages.

Volume Three continues the selected published works, including book reviews and essays he was asked to contribute to various periodicals, as well as other collected material relating to his life. A color print of the original painting of Kinghorn by Andrew Robertson is reproduced along with a sketch by J. M. Johnson. This volume contains a detailed index of persons, subjects, and churches to all three volumes. 590 pages.

The British Particular Baptists

Edited by Michael A. G. Haykin

The Works of Abraham Booth, Vol 1

Edited by Michael A. G. Haykin

Illustrated and indexed $27.50

Volume One: Confession of Faith & Sermons.

Abraham Booth (1734-1806) was a leading Baptist theologian of his day, one of the most widely read Baptist authors of his era, the prime mover in beginning the theological college that would become Regent's Park College, Oxford, and the first London Baptist pastor to offer active support of the fledgling Baptist Missionary Society. This first volume contains sermons found in Volume 3 of the 1813 edition of The Works of Abraham Booth, plus sermons from various issues of The Baptist Magazine and Booth's confession of faith given at the time of his ordination on February 16, 1769. 263 pages.

The Works of Abraham Booth, Vol 2

Edited by Zachary K. Williams

Indexed $27.00

Volume Two: Early Theological Works (1768-1777)

The early soteriological works contained in this volume include two important treatises: The Reign of Grace (1768, heavily revised in 1771), and its companion volume, The Death of Legal Hope (1770). These works, which address key theological issues related to man's salvation and sanctification, are undoubtedly some of Booth's finest, and we are pleased to see them in print again. The present volume also contains two appendices. 325 pages.

“The First Counsellor of our Denomination”: Studies in the Life and Ministry of Abraham Booth (1734-1806)

*Edited by Michael A. G. Haykin
with Victoria J. Haykin*

Illustrated and indexed $16.50 Kindle ebook: $9.50

This paperback volume is a collection of papers presented by Baptist historians on the occasion of the 200th anniversary of the death of Abraham Booth at Regent’s Park College, Oxford, in 2006. Various aspects of Booth’s influence and legacy are explored in this informative book. 217 pages

Calvinism and Communion in Victorian England

By Geoffrey R. Breed

Illustrated and indexed $34.50

This study illustrates tensions between Particular and Strict Baptists during the first quarter of Queen Victoria’s reign. Two hitherto untapped sources of Baptist history are explored: the Minutes of the London Association of Strict Baptist Ministers and Churches (LASBMC), 1846-1855 and the Ramsgate Chapel Case of 1862. This book also re-examines the views of C. H. Spurgeon on the Communion issue in light of an interview he had late in his ministry with a Virginia Baptist pastor and contains a reprint of David Griffith’s outstanding treatise on “Baptist Associations and Articles of Belief” (1840), in which he argues the necessity of having stated doctrinal beliefs. 646 pages.

A Cluster of Camphire: Words of Cheer and Comfort to Sick & Sorrowful Souls

By Susannah Spurgeon

Illustrated $17.50

Susannah Spurgeon (1832-1903) was the wife of the famous C. H. Spurgeon of London, known as the “Prince of Preachers.” “A Cluster of Camphire was written by Mrs. Spurgeon after the passing of her own husband. It was intended to act as a soothing balm to those who had lost a loved one to death.” – from the introduction.

This volume, reproduced in its original “pocket edition” format, also contains the publication of letters by Susannah and C. H. Spurgeon and a biographical essay on the life of Susannah Spurgeon, all of which adds to the historical value. 174 pages.

The First London Confession of Faith, 1646 Edition. With an Appendix by Benjamin Cox.

Historical Introduction by Michael A. G. Haykin
$4.00

William L. Lumpkin in his Baptist Confessions of Faith stated that “Perhaps no Confession of Faith has had so formative an influence on Baptist life as this one.” We also believe its historical importance is second only to its Christ-centeredness. Our reprint is designed to make this remarkable confession easier to use by giving each article in the confession an appropriate title, as suggested by other period confessions; placing at the end of each article in the confession, any corresponding reference to the appendix; and including a table of Contents. This booklet would be ideal for individual or group study or for a wider distribution. Paperback, 44 pages.

NEWPORT COMMENTARY SERIES

The volumes comprising this collection are all uniformly bound in black cloth vellum with gold stamping and full color dust jackets.

An Exposition of the First Book of Moses called Genesis

By John Gill
Illustrated $32.00

This instructive volume is presented in a new easy-to-read format, complete and unabridged from the pen of one of the leading Bible expositors of the eighteenth century. Making skillful use of an extensive acquaintance with Jewish rabbinical literature and other ancient historical writings, John Gill brings before the reader a narrative of uncommon interest, woven within a substantial, reliable exposition of this important book. 836 pages.

An Exposition of Deuteronomy 33: The Blessings of Moses on the Children of Israel

By William Parkinson
Illustrated and a topical index $32.00

In this volume (originally published in two volumes), William Parkinson not only expounds the text itself, but brings to bear other related subjects in the Word of God which will aid in illuminating one's overall understanding of biblical things. Moses is portrayed as a type of Christ, who bestows blessings and admonitions upon His people for their good and His glory. Parkinson's expressed desire was that these sermons "in the hand of the Holy Spirit," might "be instrumental, in comforting believers—in awakening sinners—and in directing inquiring souls to Christ." 1134 pages.

An Exposition of the Book of Psalms

By Samuel Eyles Pierce
$32.50 each or two volume set: $60

What makes this two volume set unique among others on the Psalms is that he views the whole book as prophetic of Christ and His Church and expounds each chapter in accordance with this central theme. The result is a spiritually rich, Christ-centered treatise on this favorite Old Testament book.

Volume One includes a biographical essay on Pierce and covers his exposition of Psalms 1-72. Two appendixes and a map of the "Scenes in the life of Samuel Eyles Pierce." 669 pages.

Volume Two covers the exposition of Psalms 73-150, with two additional related appendixes of works by the author. 703 pages.

An Exposition of the Gospel According to Matthew

by Charles H. Spurgeon
Illustrated $29.50

First published posthumously in 1893, this volume represents the only New Testament commentary written by Spurgeon and is reproduced here in a facsimile reprint of the original edition published by Passmore and Alabaster, Spurgeon's publishers. To this 263-page work we have added portraits and other illustrations, but most importantly, a collection of selected unpublished letters to and from Spurgeon, as well as some of his manuscript book reviews and sermon outlines. Color reproductions of some of the more significant letters are included and a previously unpublished work, "Letters on the Down-Grade Controversy, with Notes by Dr. Eric Hayden," completes this volume. 384 pages.

An Exposition of the Parable of the Sower in Matthew 13

By Samuel Stennett

$21.00

Samuel Stennett (1728-1795) was among the last of a long line of outstanding ministers produced by the remarkable Stennett family in England. In this exposition of the Parable of the Sower, Stennett in a series of six discourses not only carefully examines the four kinds of “soils” or human hearts the Word of God comes to, but he also skillfully delineates the responsibilities incumbent on those who “sow the seed” or preach and teach the Word, as well as on those who “hear” or regularly attend upon the ministry of God’s Word. A careful reading of these discourses will enrich one’s understanding a great deal on this key New Testament passage. 224 pages.

An Exposition of the Gospel According to John

By John Gill

$29.00

In this edition, the truths of God’s Word are set forth in a richly edifying manner. Drawing on a wealth of Rabbinical literature with which to illustrate the text, Gill presents the reader with a solid and sensible commentary while at the same time not losing sight of the spirituality of the Word, nor of its chief subject, the Lord Jesus Christ. Gill’s references to the Apocrypha have been cited in full. This, along with another valuable suggestion – to include Gill’s numerous references to his notes in the earlier Gospels and elsewhere as endnotes - has greatly aided in making this present commentary a self-contained work. In easy-to-read print, this second revised edition includes a 16-page historical essay. 742 pages. Portrait.

An Exposition of the Epistle to the Ephesians

By Robert E. Pattison

$25.00

Robert E. Pattison (1800-1874) brought years of pastoral experience as well as theological teaching to bear in writing this, “his only literary monument.” First published in Boston in 1859, C. H. Spurgeon counted this work among the very best on this epistle, stating in his Commenting and Commentaries that it was “A book to instruct intelligent, experienced believers,” and “a model for a class-book, plain yet profound.” It includes a biographical essay on the author; an appendix containing Pattison’s address to the Warren Baptist Association in which he contends that it is not the outward miracles that would now commend the gospel to others, but the inward miracle of the transformed life; and a second appendix of a sermon by Hanserd Knollys on Ephesians 1:4. 253 pages.

An Exposition of the Epistle to the Hebrews

By James A. Haldane

$26.00

Haldane, in faithfulness to the text, sets forth Christ as the one true Deliverer from sin as the Savior of His People. In Spurgeon’s introductory “Remarks upon the Catalog of Commentaries,” he noted that the books “most heartily recommended are listed with *** after the book. In this select category was James A. Haldane’s Exposition of the Epistle to the Hebrews (1860), to which Spurgeon appended the following comments: “a posthumous work issued not as a finished exposition, but as ‘notes of an intended exposition.’ Very valuable for all that.” To this quality facsimile reprint is added Haldane’s work on “The Duty of Self-Examination.” 424 pages.

An Exposition of the Epistle of First John

By Samuel Eyles Pierce

Two volumes in one $32.00 Out of stock

One will not read very far into any of the writings of Samuel Eyles Pierce before discovering what an exalted view of the Lord Jesus Christ he had. "You will find it a blessed part of your spiritual life to study Christ," he wrote years earlier in a letter to a good friend, adding, "You will never trust in Christ any farther than you know Him; therefore the knowledge of Him is the principal thing in Christianity."

Our facsimile reprint was produced from C. H. Spurgeon's personal copy of the set now in the Spurgeon Library at Midwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Missouri. 880 pages.

"Lessons From a Barbed Wire Fence" & Other Bible-Based Stories For Children

By Gary W. Long, edited by Doug Holcomb

Illustrated $16.00

This unique collection of stories was written by our late co-founder, Gary W. Long. The book is designed to be read to children of all ages. Bro. Gary takes a story or concept from the Scriptures and weaves a narrative around it, sometimes with animals, sometimes with people, sometimes with both, but always drives you to the Scriptures to find the Truth. This unique approach is captivating, causing even the adults in the room to listen intently. There are over 70 black and white illustrations in the book. 228 pages with Scripture index.

Partner with us

Particular Baptist Press, a non-profit publishing ministry, is seeking interested institutions, churches and individuals who believe in the promotion and preservation of Baptist history to partner with us—sponsoring the publication of a book, setting up a standing order, or simply making a tax deductible gift.

Sponsorship

If you are interested in sponsoring the publication of one of our books, please contact us for more details at (417) 883-0342. In this way a valuable legacy can be left for both the present and future generations.

Standing Order

A standing order means that as we publish a book, we will automatically ship the book directly to you. We generally print between two and four books a year. If, for some reason, you do not want a particular book, you may return it with the invoice. When your order is initially set up, we will work with you to customize your preferences with regard to our inventory of publications that you may not already own. Thus, getting you caught-up on all of our books of interest to you. Individual standing order customers enjoy free shipping.

To request a standing order, complete the following form and mail to 2766 W. Farm Road 178, Springfield, MO 65810. For more information, please contact us at (417) 883-0342 or e-mail us at standingorders@pbpress.org.
